IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Use of radio equipment at all official Olympic Sites

The London 2012 Organising Committee of the Olympic Games and Paralympic Games (LOCOG), in partnership with the UK communications regulator, Ofcom, have been working to plan, co-ordinate and licence the radio spectrum of the Games.

If you are planning to use radio equipment at an Olympic site you are required to apply for frequencies and validation tags for the radios being used.

The LOCOG Spectrum team handling this can be contacted by emailing spectrum@london2012.com who will give you guidance on spectrum availability and the route you should take to get accreditation.

Please note that we cannot do this for you, even though you may be intending to hire equipment from us, as it is the organisation that is taking the equipment into the venues that must ensure that the equipment has been checked and confirmed as compliant.

Ofcom will start issuing games licenses early in 2012, however, we strongly recommend that applications are made to LOCOG prior to the end of 2011 to ensure frequencies are reserved and available to you.

We will only be able to assist you with Hire equipment if you have obtained the necessary licence and verification tags, also please note that a high use of radio equipment is expected at this time, so an early order placement with us is essential.

If you have any queries on the above, please contact our Hire department on Freephone: 0500 220221 or Email: hire@radio-links.co.uk
